Homework #12- Hand in no later than 2:41 p.m., Wednesday, June 21

Let (X,d) be a pseudometric space. Suppose there is an $r > 0$ so that $cl(C(x;r))$ is compact for every $x \in X$. Prove that (X,d) is complete.